Global risk-on sentiment buoyed equity markets at the start of the third quarter, as expectations had shifted from a US recession towards a soft-landing scenario. This sentiment soured early in August as signs of slowing growth in the UK, Europe and China and the US Federal Reserve's (Fed) hawkish rhetoric outweighed any optimism. Ultimately, global equities delivered poor returns for the quarter with the MSCI All Country World Index (ACWI) down 3.4% in US dollars and emerging market shares down 2.9%.

US government bond yields continued to soar, offering investment competition to shares and exerting pressure on longer-duration equities. The 10-year US Treasury yield reached a 16-year high of 4.6%. Fiscal concerns and monetary policy expectations have been a key driver, with the Fed's renewed hawkishness surprising investors. Similarly, the European Central Bank raised its key interest rate to 4% and emphasised its intention to keep rates high for longer to quell inflation. Oil prices have climbed closer to US$100 a barrel on expectations of tighter supply – a 28% increase this quarter, which poses a significant risk to inflation, and therefore bond yields.

A subdued Chinese recovery relative to expectations has negatively impacted global growth, driven by a depressed property market and slowing demand. This was reflected in equity returns, which declined by 3.7% in US dollars over the quarter. Officials have resorted to policy support measures to aid the economic recovery and improve liquidity in the financial system.

The South African economy surpassed expectations with real gross domestic product expanding by 0.6% in quarter two. While encouraging, there remains a myriad of known challenges constraining economic growth, including energy and logistical constraints. Consequently, and with inflation within the South African Reserve Bank's (SARB) target range, the Monetary Policy Committee voted to keep the repurchase rate unchanged at 8.25% in September.

Commodity price weakness hindered returns from resource counters, which, along with industrial shares, dragged down the local equity index. The FTSE/JSE Capped SWIX delivered -3.8% for the quarter, bringing the year-to-date return to -0.3%. Financial shares outperformed the local equity market. Returns from bonds were muted with the FTSE/JSE All Bond Index (ALBI) delivering -0.4%, underperforming both inflation-linked bonds and cash. The rand made a strong recovery in July before erasing all gains as concerns over global growth and risk-off sentiment lifted the safe-haven US currency. The rand ended the quarter 0.4% weaker than the US dollar.

Among the asset classes, the overweight to global equity and underweight to local equity were the clear alpha drivers for the quarter. Our overweight positions in healthcare and consumer discretionary were the largest contributors on a sector level, while our underweight position in materials detracted from performance. On a security level, the fund's underweight positions in Anglo Plats and Anglo Gold contributed to outperformance, whilst the underweight positions in Kumba and Sasol detracted from performance.

We maintain a cautious outlook on global equity markets as the US economy continues to hold up better than expected and market consensus is directed towards the Fed being at the end of the hiking cycle – however, set "higher for longer". Moreover, China's stimulus has been less forthcoming than expected. With rising finance costs, Purchasing Managers' Indices (PMIs) and EPS revisions are unlikely to be higher. Therefore, in the near term, we expect increased volatility, and the global outlook is uncertain.

Domestically, we also face challenges with fiscal risks, political uncertainty and poor governance. This will affect SA GDP growth; however, our model is observing some value in SA Inc. counters.

The fund benefited from both local and global equities over the quarter. The market environment's "higher for longer" narrative lends itself to a scenario of a moderation in inflation and a slowdown in global economic activity. From a style perspective, various market cycle indicators appear to be favouring defensive value as the artificial intelligence (AI) narrative fades. Within the allowable Shari'ah universe, there was no forced selling regarding stocks that have become non-Shari'ah-compliant over the quarter ending September 2023.

The fund's mandate allows for a maximum of 60% in total equity excluding property that is placed in the ASISA Medium Equity Balanced Fund category. In the current market environment, we prefer high-quality defensive characteristics within our equity opportunity set. The Old Mutual Albaraka Balanced Fund provides a smoother return path to investors using local and global equities together with Sukuks. Having a style bias towards quality exposure at the core of the investment philosophy should help investors through a potential market slowdown, whether it be a hard or soft landing.

TER is a historic measure of the impact the deduction of management and operating costs has on a fund's value. A higher TER does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low TER imply a good return. The current TER, which includes the annual service fee, may not necessarily be an accurate indication of future TERs. Transaction Cost (TC) is a necessary cost in administering the fund and impacts fund returns. It should not be considered in isolation as returns may be impacted by many other factors over time including market returns, the type of fund, the investment decisions of the investment manager and the TER.
